Changes to our Privacy Policy

We may change this Privacy Policy from time to time. If we make any changes, we will notify you by revising the “Effective Starting” date at the top of this Privacy Policy. If we make any material changes, we will provide you with additional notice (such as by adding a notice on the BTS homepages, login screens, or by sending you an email notification). We encourage you to review our Privacy Policy whenever you use BTS Services to stay informed about our information practices and the ways you can help protect your privacy.

We collect the following information:

Account and Profile Information: We collect information about you and your company as you register for an account, create or modify your profile, make purchases through, use, access, or interact with the BTS Services (including but not limited to when you upload, download, collaborate on or share Content). Information we collect includes

- Contact information such as name, title, email address, mailing address, and phone number
- Billing information such as credit card details and billing address
- Profile information such as a username, profile photo, and job function
- Preferences information such as notification and marketing preferences

You may provide this information directly when you enter it in BTS Services.

In some cases another user (such as a system administrator) may create an account on your behalf and may provide your information, including Personal Information (most commonly when your company requests that you use our products). We collect Information under the direction of our customers and often have no direct relationship with the individuals whose personal data we process. If you are an employee of one of our customers and would no longer like us to process your information, please contact your employer. If you are providing information (including Personal Information) about someone else, you must have the authority to act for them and to consent to the collection and use of their Personal Information as described in this Privacy Policy.

Content: We collect and store Content that you create, input, submit, post, upload, transmit, store or display in the process of using our Hosted Services or Websites. Such Content includes any Personal Information or other sensitive information that you choose to include (“incidentally-collected Personal Information”).

Other submissions: We collect other data that you submit to our Websites or as you participate in any interactive features of the BTS Services, participate in a survey, contest, promotion, sweepstakes, activity or event, apply for a job, request customer support, communicate with us via third party social media sites or otherwise communicate with us. For example, information regarding a problem you are experiencing with an BTS product could be submitted to our Feedback Services or posted in our public forums.

Information we collect from your use of BTS Services

Web Logs: As is true with most websites and services delivered over the Internet, we gather certain information and store it in log files when you interact with our Websites and Hosted Services. This information includes internet protocol (IP) addresses as well as browser type, internet service provider, URLs of referring/exit pages, operating system, date/time stamp, information you search for, locale and language preferences, identification numbers associated with your Devices, your mobile carrier, and system configuration information. In the case of our Hosted Services, the URLs you accessed (and therefore included in our log files) include usernames as well as elements of Content (such as BTSValidation project names, project names, status names, and JQL filters, and space names) as necessary for the Hosted Services to perform the requested operations. Occasionally, we connect Personal Information to information gathered in our log files as necessary to improve BTS Services for individual customers. In such a case, we would treat the combined Information in accordance with this privacy policy.

Analytics Information from Website and Hosted Services: We collect analytics information when you use our Websites and Hosted Services to help us improve our products and services. In the Hosted Services, this analytics information consists of the feature and function of the BTS Service being used, the associated license identifier (SEN) and domain name, the username and IP address of the individual who is using the feature or function (which will include Personal Information if the Personal Information was incorporated into the username), the sizes and original filenames of attachments, and additional information required to detail the operation of the function and which parts of the BTS Services are being affected. For example:

- In BTSValidation, analytics information that we collect when a user creates a project includes the system-generated numeric identifier of the project, the project key input by the user, the name of the template used (if any), and the name of the project. Similarly, analytics information that we collect when an issue is edited includes the system-assigned numeric issue id, the issue key (which consists of the project key and a system-generated sequence number), whether the edit is made by a user or automatically generated by the system, and whether email notifications are to be sent.

As shown in the example above, the analytics information we collect includes elements of Content related to the function the user is performing. As such, the analytics information we collect may include Personal Information or sensitive business information that the user has included in Content that the user chose to upload, submit, post, create, transmit, store or display in an BTS Service.

As of the date this policy went into effect, we use Google Analytics as an analytics provider. To learn more about the privacy policy of Google Analytics, refer to Google's Policies and Principles. Use the Google Analytics Opt-out Browser Add-on to prevent analytics information from being sent to Google Analytics.

Analytics Information from Plug-ins Products: We collect analytics information when you use our Plug-ins Products to help us improve our products and services. Our Plug-ins Products contain a feature that sends information that you installed this Plug-ins Products on your systems ("System Information") to us. System Information includes information about (a) the database type and version in which the Plug-ins Product is operating, as well as (b) user client information, for example: browser type and version, native client type and version, and client device specifications (e.g. screen resolution, OS version, device type, etc.). In addition, we collect analytics information from Plug-ins Products that is a subset of the analytics information described above for Websites and Hosted Services. As with Websites and Hosted Services, the analytics information we collect includes elements of Content related to the function the user is performing, but with an important caveat. With the Plug-ins Products, before sending the information to BTS's servers, we filter the analytics information to remove elements that we believe may contain sensitive or Personal Information. For example: (1) we conduct a one-way hash of usernames and hostnames before collecting them and (2) we filter any Content elements we collect to discard all words except those on a list of common business and IT terminology. You can disable our collection of analytics information from Plug-ins Products via the Administrator settings.

Installer Analytics, Software Updates & License Information from Hosted Services: During the creation of database on cloud-based deployments, the installer sends analytics information to BTS to allow us to understand where in the installation process users are experiencing trouble or dropping out. Our Hosted Services communicate with BTS servers for licensing purposes, as well as to check for updates, patches, and compatibility with Add-Ons. Examples of information we collect for these purposes include the name and version of the Hosted Services and the server ID, SEN, and IP address of the customer instance.

Cookies and Other Tracking Technologies: BTS and our third party partners, such as our advertising and analytics partners, use various technologies to collect information, such as cookies and web beacons. Cookies are small data files stored on your hard drive or in device memory. We use cookies to improve and customize BTS Services and your experience; to allow you to access and use the Websites or Hosted Services without re-entering your username or password; and to count visits and understand which areas and features of the Websites and Hosted Services are most popular. You can instruct your browser, by changing its options, to stop accepting cookies or to prompt you before accepting a cookie from websites you visit. If you do not accept cookies, however, you may not be able to use all aspects of our Websites or Hosted Services. BTS and our third party partners also collect information using web beacons (also known as “tracking pixels”). Web beacons are electronic images that may be used in our Websites or Hosted Services or in emails that help us to deliver cookies, count visits, understand usage and campaign effectiveness and determine whether an email has been opened and acted upon.

BTS and our third party partners also use javascript, e-tags, “flash cookies”, and HTML5 local storage to collect information about your online activities over time and across different websites or online services. Many browsers include their own management tools for removing HTML5 local storage objects. To manage “flash cookies” please click here.

You may be able to opt out of receiving personalized advertisements as described below under “Your Choices.”

Information we collect from other sources

Information from third party services: We also obtain information from third parties and combine that with Information we collect through BTS Services. For example, we may have access to certain information from a third party social media or authentication service if you log into BTS Services through the service or otherwise provide us with access to Information from the service. Any access that we may have to such Information from a third party social or authentication service is in accordance with the authorization procedures determined by that service. By authorizing us to connect with a third party service, you authorize us to access and store your name, email address(es), current city, profile picture URL, and other information that the third party service makes available to us, and to use and disclose it in accordance with this Privacy Policy. You should check your privacy settings on these third party services to understand and change the information sent to us through these services.
